Cement Plant Fights Loss Of Business

Gate Bridge Directors Aid Rival Firm By Change

Changes in specifications which permitted Santa Cruz cement to be substituted for the product of the Pacific Portland Cement Company precipitated a lively row before the Golden Gate bridge directors in San Francisco Wednesday.

It was alleged that the changes were made so that Director George T. Cameron's company could get the business away from the local plant.

The board at its last open meeting adopted a resolution recommending use of a high silica type of cement on the advice of Chief Engineer Joseph B. Strauss and consulting engineers. This cement is manufactured by the Santa Cruz Portland Cement Company, of which Mr. Cameron is the president.

Cameron, a Hillsborough resident, is a San Francisco newspaper publisher.

At stake is some 130,000 barrels of cement to bring a price of about $250,000.

Protesting against the change of materials, Charles A. Ruggles, attorney for the Pacific Portland company, made these charges before the bridge directors:

1. That Director Cameron influenced the board in its decision and that it is illegal for a member of the directorate to profit from a contract, and that Mr. Cameron indirectly will profit by furnishing cement to a dealer who sells it to the contractor.

2. That the high silica cement does not measure up to the standard of the Pacific Portland product, and that it is submitted at the same price, although actually inferior and cheaper to manufacture.

3. That if high silica cement is used the Golden Gate span may collapse, and the contractors have suggested they be relieved of liability in case of a substitute product being forced upon them.

Ruggles' charges provoked denials from the other directors that Cameron had used his influence toward getting his company's product used.

Cameron, who reported that he has been manufacturing Portland cement for 25 years, said the high silica type is preferred for use in salt water.

No. Fair Oaks Club Requests Traffic Signs

Declaring traffic has reached menacing proportions and is curbed mainly through strict discipline by school authorities and use of boy traffic officers, the North Fair Oaks Improvement Club Monday asked for arterial stop signs and painted white lines as safety precautions on Middlefield and Semicircle roads.

Stop signs are asked at the intersections of Fair Oaks and Marsh roads and at Middlefield and Semicircle roads where they join.

Charles DeLacy, secretary of the club, forwarded the petition. The board delayed the request one week.

Mrs. Canfield Acts to Retain HerBeerGarden

Mrs. Helen Canfield Monday began court action in her attempt to continue the operation of Canfield Gardens, near Menlo Park.

She filed a petition for a writ of review to contest the county supervisors' revocation of her beer license, issued in April, 1933. She questions the board's right to deny her a license to operate the gardens.

The matter is on Judge Franklin Swart's calendar, and he will decide whether or not the writ shall issue.

The supervisors banned Canfield Gardens when residents of the vicinity complained that it disturbed an otherwise peaceful residential area.

BADEN DOG TRACK RAID BY LANDINI IS SURPRISE

Suddenly deputizing a handpicked posse, Constable Silvio Landini of Colma appeared at the Baden Kennel Club's racetrack Wednesday in South San Francisco and arrested five of the asserted operators.

But the races were halted only temporarily, and were resumed last night.

Meanwhile, District Attorney Edmund Scott and Sheriff James J. McGrath, who were planning a raid of their own when Landini stepped in, were awaiting the presentation by Landini of the evidence seized Wednesday.

Scott May Not Act

If it is sufficient to take into court, Scott said he will not need to raid the track. "If Landini obtained the evidence to close the track, I'll prosecute," Scott said. "Otherwise, I'll put on a raid myself the first chance I get.

"The option system is simply a subterfuge. It's outright gambling—as much so as roulette or a back alley dice game."

Kneese One of Five

Those arrested Wednesday included George A. Kneese, former county engineer and political figure, and the following: B. A. Rafelli, Robert Rea, A. E. Mark and William Schendel.

Landini explained the raid as "simply doing my duty," and said he had received numerous complaints because of the gambling at the track.

Harrison W. Call, attorney for the dog interests, had this to say concerning the raid:

Arrests "Welcomed"

"We are not informed as to who engineered this arrest. The district attorney is quoted as disclaiming any connection with it. Regardless of who made or authorized the arrests, we welcome an opportunity to have this much debated question adjudicated by the proper tribunal.

"The Baden Kennel Club has invested thousands of dollars in its track and equipment. Hundreds of people are employed at this greyhound racing course. Naturally any one interested in this business wants to be careful of his position.

"If the present method of operations is not legal then those interested will take the necessary steps to legalize some means of operation such as the horse racers recently did. Surely we haven't one law for dog racers and another for horse racers."

ALAN VAN FLEET KILLS SELF NEAR MENLO CLUB

CHOOSING an unfrequented spot near the Menlo Country Club, Alan Crocker Van Fleet, prominent San Francisco lawyer and Palo Alto social registerite, shot himself through the head in a weekend suicide.

Van Fleet left his home Saturday morning ostensibly to play golf at the western foothill club. He did not return home by nightfall, and his wife asked Palo Alto police to institute a search for him.

No word or trace came of Van Fleet during Saturday night, and the body was found Sunday by chance when Peter Storti of Woodside road came upon the tragedy in a dry creek bed off the golf club property at 11 o'clock Sunday.

After leaving his home, 218 Lowell avenue, Palo Alto, for the golf course, Van Fleet returned for some money and an old .38 caliber revolver which he kept in the basement. With the money he bought a box of cartridges.

The attorney then came to the golf club, but did not go to the clubhouse. He drove his car into a thicket and walked about 200 yards down the bed of the creek. The lawyer is then believed to have adjusted a mirror to a tree to make sure, apparently, that the shot would go where intended, and fired the bullet through the right side of the head.

William C. Van Fleet, a brother, of Los Angeles, identified the body at the Layng and Tinney chapel here. He was visiting the family at the time of the tragedy. Mrs. Van Fleet, the former Alice Brune of Ross, Marin county, did not view the body, nor did his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Crocker Van Fleet.

Van Fleet's father was judge of the United States district here in 1907 and was one of California's prominent jurists up to the time of his death in 1923.

Van Fleet was a member of the Pacific Union, Menlo Golf, and Town and Country Clubs. He was a graduate of the University of California and Harvard, and was well-known in bay legal and society circles.

The body was removed from Redwood City to San Francisco.

'BUY NOW' CAMPAIGN IS PUSHED BY NRA MEET

Promotion of the "Buy Now" campaign and handling of infractions of the president's recovery pledge were cited as the two foremost activities of the immediate future at a meeting at the William Taylor Hotel, San Francisco, Tuesday.

Southern San Mateo county NRA committeemen were well represented at the San Francisco meeting, which was the first general meeting of committees for Central California.

Included among the attendance from Redwood City and vicinity was Chairman Edward T. Harrison, J. D. Hedge, Mrs. Z. T. Thorning, A. E. Lueger, Miss Marion Cummings, secretary of the women's division; Mayor William Dusel, City Manager E. A. Rolison, City Engineer C. L. Dimmitt, County Chairman Charles B. Henderson and Howard I. Wood, secretary of the local NRA committee. Guests were presented from as far south as San Diego and from practically all other parts of California.

Creel Talks

After a general talk by George Creel, head of the NRA for California, questions were asked by those in attendance. It was the sense of the meeting that there is plenty of power available for the enforcement of the president's pledge, as originally put out, and also the modified pledges.

To Hear Complaints

Chairman J. D. Hedge of the local enforcement board has called the first meeting for organization and for hearing on two sworn complaints which have been filed with the committee. The two other members of the board are Mrs. Z. T. Thorning, representing consumers, and A. E. Lueger, representing labor.

Mr. Hedge today announced the general rules which will be observed in the submission and handling of complaints as follows:

"The committee will receive all complaints of violations of the NRA for Southern San Mateo county, including San Carlos.

"The committee asks all persons complaining to follow these rules:

"Make your report in writing. If possible you should make it under oath.

"Write a separate letter on each store or shop that is violating the NRA.

"Give the name of the employer, the name and address of the shop or store, and the kind of business it does.

"Tell whether or not he has a Blue Eagle.

"Give your name and address. No action will be taken unless you sign the complaint, but your name will not be revealed.

"Give all the details of the violation, such as dates, hours, wages, names, kind of work done by employes, etc., that you know of your own knowledge. Do not make complaints on what other people tell you. Tell them to make the report.

"Mail or deliver the report to NRA Board of Adjustment, care of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce."

Women of the community formed a committee which met at 4 p. m. yesterday in the chamber of commerce to work in the interests of the NRA. Mrs. A. S. Kalenborn is chairman, and the committee members include Mrs. Roscoe Wyatt, Mrs. Jay Cooper, Mrs. Thomas Cutting, Mrs. Walter Barusch, Mrs. C. I. Rider, Mrs. C. C. Filsinger, Mrs. Carl Underwood and Mrs. Carl Alexander.

Jeremiah Cronin Passes Away, S. F.

Jeremiah Cronin, born in Redwood City 76 years ago, passed away in San Francisco last Friday. Cronin was a prominent harnessmaker here in the seventies, having learned his trade with the late J. W. Glennan. He left Redwood City in his young manhood, living in numerous places of California and finally locating in San Francisco. His father and mother were pioneer residents of San Mateo county.

Manager Plan For Hospital Wins Support

Health Director Of Co. Replies To Grand Jury

Support of the plan to place a business manager in charge of the Community Hospital to reduce the expense of that institution was voiced Saturday by Dr. Harold E. Morrison, director of the Department of Public Health and Welfare of San Mateo county.

The health chief's stand is taken in opposition to the recommendation of the San Mateo County Grand Jury that no such position be filled, but it has the unanimous support of both the health and welfare board and the board of supervisors.

The grand jury's recommendation was forwarded to the supervisors Monday. Opposition of the jury, which went contrary to recommendations of previous juries, was based on the ground that the business manager's salary would only increase the hospital's budget another $3000.

Dr. Morrison said the jury's stand against the business manager and the proposed superintendent of social service is based on misinformation by the jurors as to the present needs and proposed duties of these two new officials.

Morrison's Statement

The health chief declares:

"It is significant that no member of the grand jury, nor anyone representing it, has called upon the director of public health and welfare in connection with any element in the new organization.

"The board of health and welfare has unanimously recommended the appointment of a business superintendent for the Community Hospital and the board of supervisors unanimously provided for the item in the budget.

Ways to Save

"There are many ways in which the new business superintendent may help to save more than the amount of his salary. The possibility of savings in the purchase of supplies and the collecting of moneys from part-pay patients have perhaps been exaggerated.

"On the other hand, press reports indicate that the chief way in which the business superintendent can save money for the taxpayers has been practically overlooked. This is in the urgent need for the immediate employment of one whose definite responsibility will be to eliminate personal influence from the rating of patients for admission to the hospital.

"It has been frequently alleged that patients have been admitted on a free basis who have considerable taxable property, life insurance with loan value, and other financial sources which make them quite ineligible, under standard regulations for the admission of patients to charitable hospitals. There are also possibilities of saving by the transfer of very chronic cases to some other facility where care is sufficient but yet much less expensive than the cost in the hospital.

Offer Explanation

"In respect to the position of superintendent of social service, the grand jury has evidently disregarded the fact that the director public health and welfare, in presenting his budget to the board of supervisors, explained that, in accordance with the unanimous recommendation of the board of health and welfare, he was expecting to secure a physician experienced in social service work for this position, and that he would ask, as soon as such a man became available, that he be designated "assistant director of public health," in addition to his title of superintendent of social service.

"He will thus be available to assist the director in any part of the county and in any phase of the health and welfare program which may need most immediate attention.

"Such needs, at present, include the San Francisco jail sewage problem, garbage dumping, and several matters of general sanitation which the director has been handicapped in handling because of lack of field assistants."

Daly City Mailman Named in Divorce

Mrs. Cecelia Barry, 4 Shakespeare street, Daly City, today filed suit for divorce from Michael Barry, United States mail carrier, alleging cruelty. They were married in San Francisco on October 11, 1921, and have two children, Nancy, 11, and Kevin, 8.

R. Ratto, 51, Colma, and P. Perata, 33, Alameda, riding with Ratto, incurred lacerations of the face.

Rolph's Kin in Fatal Leap at San Francisco

Robert Reid, Atherton, Jumps 16 Stories To Death

Robert C. Reid, 50, brother-in-law of Governor James Rolph Jr. and an Atherton resident, plunged from the 16th floor of the Balfour building at California and Sansome streets, San Francisco, in a suicide leap late Tuesday.

At the Reid home on Isabella avenue, in Atherton, Mrs. Reid was prostrated with grief. Ira S. Lillick, San Francisco lawyer and neighbor of the Reids, hastened to the home to give what assistance he could.

Suffered Breakdown

Lillick said Reid suffered a nervous breakdown six months ago, following which he spent three months in Europe. On his return he soon lapsed into another highly nervous state. His home life, Lillick said, was a happy one without a trace of matrial discord.

Reid's plunge was nearly halted by Ernest Walker, engineer of the building, who rushed to the ledge and shouted: "Stop Mr. Reid, for Heaven's sake, stop!"

Reid hung on another minute and then shouted a "Goodbye!" He fell 14 stories to the roof of the two-story insurance building next door.

Leaves Note

The deceased was one of three brothers of Mrs. Annie Rolph, wife of the governor. He left a note, addressed to Robert A. Lewin, president of Balfour, Guthrie & Co. Ltd., importing firm, which read:

You are probably not aware that I have been under treatment for some time past with a view of clearing up my mental condition. I have felt my brain deteriorating for some two years or more, and, after taking a rest cure at the hospital over the past weekend, I find, on returning to the office, that my brain simply will not function.

I cannot contemplate becoming a burden on others through being incapacitated. Please transfer my balance in the books to the credit of Mrs. R. C. Reid.

(Signed) R. C. REID.

News of the tragedy was kept from Governor Rolph, ill in St. Francis' Hospital. Attending physicians feared a relapse from the progress being made after his recent attack of pneumonia if he should be informed of the suicide.

S. F. Conductor Fatally Hurt In Auto Crash

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Edward F. Dugan, 58, conductor for the Market Street Railway Company, died in the St. Francis Hospital, San Francisco, last night, as the result of injuries incurred on the Mission road, near here, late yesterday.

Dugan, riding alone, was thrown through the windshield of his automobile when he lost control while proceeding on the Mission road near the duck farm and ran into a concrete culvert.

The lower part of the jaw was severed by the glass, and Dugan suffered other head and body injuries. Given first aid at the South San Francisco General Hospital, Dugan was transferred to the San Francisco institution and succumbed last night.

He was the husband of the late Sadie Dugan, and is survived by a daughter, Ellen.

Judge Denies $100 Monthly To S.F. Youth

"Monthly allowances are the ruination of many good people."

Because of this belief, Superior Judge Franklin Swart today denied the plea of William Roberts, 16, San Francisco high school boy living at 1367 Stevenson street, that he be allowed $100 per month. The court fixed $70 as ample during school periods, and $40 during vacation.

The inheritance is from the estate of the boy's grandfather, the late Thomas Roberts, 85, wagonmaker, who died in the Dumbarton Oaks tract on January 14. The estate in trust is about $4400.

TRUCK HITS TRAILER IN FOG; FIRE LICKS AT BADLY HURT PAIR

Two truck operators were injured, a trailer and a load of matches caught fire and were destroyed, and a truck ran away with an asserted sleepy or intoxicated driver in the cab, following an early morning mishap on the Bayshore highway in East Palo Alto Thursday. There was a heavy fog at the time.

Roy Johnson, 37, of Fresno, driver for the Fortier Transport Company, Fresno, was jailed in Redwood City by Deputy Sheriff Leland Quinlan after the mishap.

Quinlan reported that Johnson was under the influence of liquor when examined by Dr. Harry E. Mason. Johnson admitted having a bottle of wine, Deputy District Attorney Anderson reported.

Frank Jameson, 430 Pacific avenue, Santa Cruz, with a fractured hip and possible brain concussion, and his companion, J. D. Tomlin, also of Santa Cruz, with a fractured hip and cuts and bruises, were pulled from the wreckage of their truck amid the flaming cargo of the trailer, which had taken fire in the impact.

They were taken to the Palo Alto Hospital.

The two injured men were rescued by the occupants of a third, and northbound, truck. They were L. C. Houk and Earl Pruitt, both of Dos Palos.

Johnson's truck meanwhile, detached from the trailer, had been pushed or driven forward some 700 or 800 yards, according to Quinlan.

Quinlan reported that Johnson did not leave the cab of his own truck to render aid to the injured men on the second vehicle. The men, he said, might have been cremated had the other truck not come along, according to Quinlan.

The Menlo Park Fire Department was called out and extinguished the flames in the burning trailer.

State Traffic Officers Manfred Walzberg and Ed Trulsen of the night patrol filed a report of the accident with the traffic bureau.

Permit Held Up In Creek Sewage War

State Health Chief Restrains S. F. In San Bruno Case

Efforts by the city and county of San Francisco to "railroad" an application for a permit to dispose of its sewage from the San Francisco jail at San Bruno into San Bruno creek were blocked Saturday.

C. G. Gillespie, chief of the bureau of sanitary engineering of the state department of public health, notified Dr. Harold E. Morrison, San Mateo county health chief, that the already-granted permit will not become effective until a hearing is held by Dr. Giles S. Porter, state health chief.

The hearing was set today for Friday, September 22, at 10 a. m., in room 312 of the State Building, San Francisco.

Dr. Morrison said that the San Francisco application had come to his knowledge only "by chance" last Monday (it being the Labor Day holiday), and yet the state had granted the permit effective the next day without consulting the health officer or board of supervisors.

Gillespie, in a communication to Dr. Morrison, reports that "in view of the protest" the permit by its very text could not become effective.

Board Backs Morrison

The board of supervisors on Monday went on record backing up Dr. Morrison's protest.

San Francisco made application to the state department for the permit on April 26, but the question was never put before the people of San Bruno or San Mateo county.

Dr. Morrison protests to the state department the plan to experiment by disposal of the refuse through use of an Imhoff tank and activated sludge plant with chlorination of the effluent and the disposal of the product in San Bruno creek.

Looking to Future

The product must not alone be thoroughly disinfected by chlorination but must "have the appearance of completely treated sewage," Dr. Morrison insisted.

Later Dr. Morrison said that he will insist on San Francisco piping the sewage from the jail to the bay, rather than resorting to the plan to allow the effluent to flow into the creek.

The health chief pointed out that in setting up the department "we are already planning definite steps to educate our local communities in the needs and possibilities of better sewage disposal. So we are particularly anxious to have one of the first modern sewage plants in the county turn out an effluent which is esthetically unobjectionable as well as safe."

Dr. Morrison on Monday is expected to recommend that San Francisco be given a temporary permit for disposal of its garbage at Bayshore as it has been doing in the past. He says the method is far better than that resorted to by many peninsula cities. He said the bay was "just a large cesspool."

Joseph Trubey Passes at 79 On Oliver Street

Joseph Andrew Trubey, 265 Oliver street, for the past eight years a resident here, died at his home Monday afternoon at the age of 79. He was a native of Indiana.

His widow, Saphronia; a son, William J. Trubey of Trinity county, and a daughter, Mrs. Addie Grubb of Redwood City, survive. He was a retired poultryman.

Relief Projects Are Approved By Co. Board

Jefferson Ave. Widening Among Activities Sanctioned

Widening of a portion of Jefferson avenue in Redwood City and Ralston avenue in Belmont were under approval of the board of supervisors as relief projects today.

The Ralston avenue project, to cost $3600 and to give 1200 days of employment, calls for the widening of the road area by building up the shoulders, moving the drains and cutting away the sharp turns in the artery.

Jefferson avenue will be widened by the construction of shoulders. This will cost $900 and will give 300 days of employment.

Other Projects

Other projects include $960 to remove the black acacia trees in the parkway in Hayward Park, San Mateo; $540 to improve the cemetery grounds at the poor farm; $120 for Half Moon Bay school district improvements; $1200 for clearing the right of way on the Tunitas creek road; $600 for improvements at the Hillsborough school, $1350 for grading of school grounds in Burlingame; $280 for improvements in Memorial Park, and $450 for sewer improvements in South San Francisco.

Renovize Fund Voted

The board voted $750 for follow-up work in the $2,000,000 county renovize campaign as requested by former Gov. C. C. Young.

Petition of Stanford Park annex and adjacent territory for a connection with the North Fair Oaks sewer was referred to County Engineer James S. James.

Appointment of James G. Hamilton as deputy surveyor-engineer by County Engineer James was questioned by Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, who asked that the matter be referred to the district attorney for a ruling.

The recommendation of the grand jury that no manager be appointed for the hospital was referred to Dr. Harold E. Morrison, San Mateo county health officer.

C. G. Uhlenberg, 158 Fulton street, offered to conduct a survey of county personnel and salaries at a cost of $15 per day for an estimated 30-day period, for the purpose of making recommendations for savings in county operation. The matter was continued two weeks.

The supervisors and the planning commission will meet in the Hotel Benjamin Franklin, San Mateo, Friday at 12:15, to discuss county NRA projects.

Anita LaFrance, 127 Templeton avenue, Daly City, filed an application to take the examination for clerk of the traffic bureau.

C. A. Hamm, 1413-a street, San Francisco, added his name to the list of applicants for the post of constable of South San Francisco.

A North Fair Oaks request for traffic signs was put over one week.

Music's Place In Schools Is Outlined

By ROY W. CLOUD,
Secretary, California Teachers' Association.

Reading, penmanship, and arithmetic are "tool subjects" and as such they are necessary in the training of every citizen. They may be considered part of the "bread and butter" equipment of the citizen. But they are not basically character-building in purpose or effect.

The bread and butter aspect of life has with the "machine age" become relatively less important. Where men and women, and even small children, a hundred years ago labored as a rule 12 to 15 hours per day to produce enough of the necessities for society to subsist upon, the necessary work of the world can now be done by adults working not more than six hours per day. The result in human terms is a vast amount of enforced leisure. If human society is to endure in safety we must teach ourselves and our children how to use this leisure wholesomely.

Modern society has, to its own sorrow, over-emphasized the "making-a-living" phase of existence to the extent that we are in danger of forgetting how to live. Money and materials are necessary only because they provide the means of life. But money and materials never have and never can provide fulfillment of life. Human life cannot attain fulfillment on material grounds alone.

The cave man twenty thousand years ago drew pictures on the walls of his caves to satisfy his yearnings for the artistic. The ear of savage man was caught by the pleasing sound of his bowstring, and he invented the first stringed instrument to satisfy his inward desire for music.

Material wealth can satisfy most of man's animal urges for food, shelter, and comfort. Man's distinctly human urges depend upon, among other things, music and art. For man to deny himself these things is to deny his human destiny.

To over-emphasize the material phases of existence—to over-emphasize, as modern society has done and is doing, the making-of-a-living—can only result in the deterioration of human character, and the eventual breaking down of social and moral principles.

Remodeling Plans In Hospital Held Up

The sum of $650 was saved today when County Manager Walter T. Kellogg held up proposed alterations of upstairs space in the Community Hospital which was to have been used as private rooms for the staff physicians.

Less pretentious but suitable quarters were found, which made the expense unnecessary, he said.

School Loses CaseInvolving Boy's Injury

The Jefferson Elementary School District of Daly City was ordered Thursday by a jury in Superior Judge Swart's court to pay $1000 damages to Stanley Downall, Daly City boy, for an injury to his right arm incurred at the Pershing school in 1931.

The boy's arm is limited in use as a result of the accident, Carl T. Downall, father of the boy, charged in his suit.

Calls for Statesmanship

Organized labor is facing a problem calling for wise leadership. The effect of the NRA is to give it an opportunity for offense, while holding employers to defense. The rule requiring employers to accept collective bargaining and to permit workers to decide through what organization they will bargain is an effective weapon. A struggle for power between capital and organized labor would be a natural result. There is danger in it, for the hardships endured by labor during the long depression have strained nerves to the breaking point.

Yet the situation demands statesmanship of labor leaders. The NRA is an emergency measure to facilitate recovery from the depression. The obligation rests upon workers as well as upon all other citizens to subordinate their private interests to the public interest. Industrial peace and cooperation between workers and employers are essential to the security of this interest. To obstruct and defeat them would cost labor the loss of the invaluable asset of the support of public opinion.

Not Governor's Measure

The sales tax should not be the football of politics. Yet it is fast becoming just this. There appears to be a concerted effort to create the impression Governor Rolph forced the passage of it.

If it is necessary to make some person a scapegoat, the opponents of the governor who put through the legislature the Riley act should bear the stigma, for the sales tax is the fruits of this act. It took off a substantial part of the tax on common property. Some other tax had to be put on to provide the revenue lost to the state.

In view of the situation it is cheap, despicable politics to attempt to make anyone a scapegoat for the tax. Even a low-grade moron has sufficient intelligence to understand that when revenue from all existing tax sources falls short of balancing the budget, new forms of taxes have to be imposed when by constitutional amendment the tax on common property is reduced.

OLD PALACE MARKET

825 Main Street Phone 84

Menlo Park

The old oak tree to the rear of the Southern Pacific Company's depot building is doomed. It is to be cut down by orders of the company for it is dying. Everyone is glad that it is to go for it has been a menace to the traveling public for years, standing as it does almost in the center of the street. Automobilists in dodging it stood in danger of wrecking their cars. It was a noble oak, perhaps 200 years old, but in the course of time it got in the way, like some humans, and had to be removed. In years that have flown the aged oak sheltered the carriages of Senator C. N. Felton and Senator Stanford when they were waiting for trains. Its usefulness in that respect has been over since the advent of the automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Enos, residents of Menlo Park for more than 30 years, were guests of honor at a golden wedding anniversary dinner Saturday night. The party was arranged by the couple's son and daughters, John Enos, Mrs. May Hughes, Mrs. Dora Wagner and Mrs. Florence Stewart, all of Menlo Park.

The card party given at the home of Mrs. Tupper under the auspicies of the P.-T. A. was a success. Mrs. Harry Albrect won high score, Mrs. Marie Larrecou was second, and Mrs. A. Thomas, third. Consolation went to Mrs. Peter Bush. These monthly parties are given to raise funds for the hot lunches which the P.-T. A. serves the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Madison are entertaining at a buffet luncheon on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Eyre in Atherton.

Mrs. Cora Parker has recovered from her recent attack of the "flu" and is able to be about again.

Las Lomitas P.-T. A. will give a card party Friday at 8 p. m. in the Las Lomitas school. Mrs. C. H. Niederhauser and Mrs. C. R. Scott have charge of the ticket sale and Mrs. Walter Gamboni of refreshments.

Mrs. Isabelle Weeden Lindquist sang a group of songs at the installation ceremonies of the Belmont auxiliary to the American Legion on Monday night. Among the local Legionairres who attended were Junior Past President Dora Scott Devol, Miss Em-Elizabeth Lyons and Commandera Noel, Mrs. Irene Boone, Mrs. and Mrs. Philip Blanchard. The principal speaker of the evening was Judge Maxwell McNutt who gave an interesting talk on the historic landmarks in San Mateo county.

Miss Max Leona Anderson will entertain at a dinner in her Atherton home following the tennis tournament which will wind up the summer sports season at the Menlo Country Club. This yearly invitational tournament will be played off Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Merrill Morshead had charge of entries.

Mrs. C. A. Devol will depart for New York, Montana and Chicago the later part of next week. While in Chicago she will attend the American Legion convention as a deleagte from the Eighth District of California. Mrs. Devol has served the local auxiliary as president since the beginning of the auxiliary about two years ago and is now the first junior past president of the unit.

Plans are under way for the big benefit whist party which the N. D. G. W. will give the first week in October for the benefit of the homeless children.

W. I. Walter, who occupied the Porter home on the Ringwood road all summer, has returned to his home in New York. Walter always spends his summers in Menlo Park. He is a millionaire business man of his home city.

W. B. Weir and family have closed their home here and gone to the city for the winter.

Monsignor J. W. Sullivan, who suffered a paralytic stroke at Mission Dolores this week, is widely known here, having for many years taught at the St. Patrick's Seminary. Father Sullivan's boyhood was spent in Mountain View. He is one of the best pulpit orators in the diocese. All his friends here regret his illness and hope and pray that he will recover.

Redwood City 30 Years Ago

J. F. Utter, ex-county superintendent of schools, was in Redwood on legal business during the week.

Last Saturday sparks from one of the Southern Pacific Company's engines set fire to Hind & Langley's fence near the Finger bridge, burning 300 feet of it. The fire was extinguished by the section force.

Frederick Nobs was one of a party of four who left Stanford yesterday for the Calavaras Valley on a geological expedition. The young men will endeavor to get some good specimens and also lay in a knowledge as to the mineral deposits of that section.

Matthew Crowe, the well-known Ravenswood farmer, came to town Thursday in an automobile. Mr. Crowe is a great admirer of fast horses and is the owner of several speedy trotters. His appearance on the streets in an automobile is a queer surprise to his friends who thought he would never lose his admiration for horse flesh.

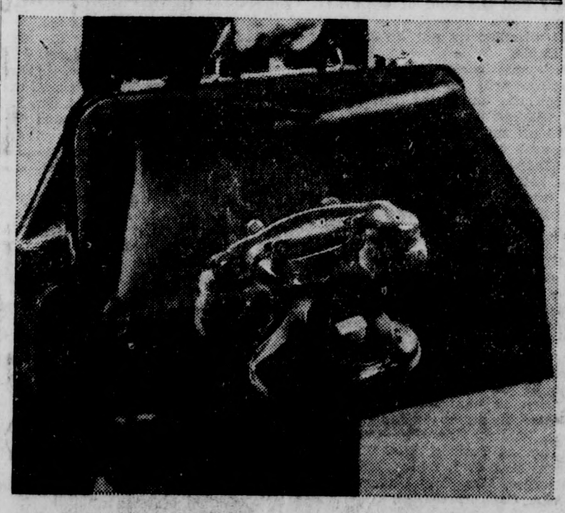
Assessor C. D. Hayward, Recorder J. F. Johnston, D. J. Mills and George Koen leave next week for Eel river, Humboldt county, on a 10 days' fishing trip.

JOHN VOGT DIES

SAN BRUNO, Sept. 11.—John Vogt Sr., 76, died Saturday night at his home at 704A Haight street, San Francisco. He was a native of Germany, and the father of John Vogt Jr., well known resident of this city. A widow, daughter and sister also survive. The funeral will be at 2 Tuesday, and interment in Olivet Memorial Park.

BELLS SPENDING TIME AT RIVER

Richard O. Bell, assistant district attorney, and Mrs. Bell, and the former's brother, are spending two weeks on vacation at the Klamath river in Northwestern California.



It goes where you go

When the front door clicks and you stride off grip in hand—

It's a comfort to know you'll have a way of projecting yourself every evening right back beneath that roof.

The telephone service that goes where you go weighs nothing in your bag. But it's there, and well worth using.

Canfield Garden Review Set for September 25th

Superior Judge Franklin Swart today set September 25 at 10 a. m. as the time for review of the supervisors' action in refusing to grant a beer permit to Mrs. Helen L. Canfield of Menlo Oaks, and in revoking her soft drink license granted in April.

The jurist granted the Canfield petition for a "writ of review" of the board's action. She contends that the board exceeded its powers in revoking the permit.

Friendly Indians in First Fall Meeting

The first meeting of the ninth season of the Sioux Friendly Indian tribe of the Lincoln school was held Monday afternoon under the direction of its big Chief Billy Dusel and the local secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, Roy A. Hohberger.

The boys got off to an enthusiastic start. All members, both new and old, were enrolled and the boys were divided into two sides for a membership drive. It was decided that the contest should run until October 11, with the winning side to have a treat.

Mr. Hohberger explained the activities which are planned for the next two months and told the boys of the effort which the men are now putting forth to make possible such clubs as theirs.

Tennessee's first school tax was levied in 1854.

'Y' Fund Gets $239 in First Day's Efforts

The first report Wednesday on the progress in the campaign for funds for carrying on the work of the local Young Men's Christian Association shows that the amount subscribed for the first day surpasses that of last year, both in cash and subscriptions. The report shows $239.50 subscribed. Many of the teams are just getting under way and were unable to turn in a report.

J. A. Buhler was high point man both in the number of prospects seen and pledges secured with P. A. Bygdnes a close second. C. M. Doxsee and Clifton Woodhams tied for the largest total amount secured with Elmer Morrish but a few dollars behind them.

Fred Blase and F. D. Whitsell were added to the list of men doing the work of solicitation. This brings the total up to 73 men who are giving of their time to securing the necessary funds.

The "Y" does not confine itself to any one age or group of boys. It is known as an organization serving boys 9 to 90 years of age. Any boy over 8 years of age is eligible to take part in the activities. The regular club groups are divided according to adolescent periods and to interests. Character-building is the underlying motive behind all of the activities.

Fourth Annual Gymkhana Show To Be Saturday

With entries practically complete in 52 classes, the fourth annual Gymkhana Club horse show is off to a flying start for its grand opening next Saturday afternoon. A snappy program will be held at the club track, foot of Twentieth avenue, San Mateo, as the initial exhibition.

Another performance will be staged in the evening, continuing on Sunday morning and afternoon. Mrs. William Duncan is chairman of the horse show committee. Mrs. Nion Tucker, in charge of box seat sales, is apportioning the trackside seats among the socially elect, while accommodations for 1,000 horse lovers will be available to the public. Part of the proceeds will be given to the unemployed.

Classes range from heavy harness horses to three- and five-gaited saddlers, polo ponies, stock horses, hunters, jumpers and thoroughbreds. The cream of mounts from the entire bay area will be assembled for the events which are expected to attract spectators from all sections of Northern California.

Larry Lansburg, Gymkhana Club rider, is busily training for a surprise stunt with which to regale the crowds. In past years, the burlesque events have challenged more serious riding for popular interest.

MOTORIST BRUISED

Stacy Wright, 20, of 2400 Chestnut street, San Francisco, incurred severe cuts and bruises when his car and one driven by Danta Pizza, 39, 382 Vallejo street, San Francisco, collided on the Bayshore highway.

PENINSULA STORES' EMPLOYES BANQUET

A section of the banquet room at the Sainte Claire Hotel in San Jose shows Peninsula Stores' employes awaiting their share of the $2300 profits distributed to them from the company's earnings. Charles Crouch, president of the company, addressed the group.

After January 1, 1935, France plans to prohibit any motor vehicle from using its roads if the vehicle contains any part made of glass that will shatter in the event of accident.

Three-fourths of all automobile drivers are safe drivers and only the other one-fourth have the accidents, according to an Iowa State College professor, who has spent several years in research.

Suicide's Kin At Loss for Explanation

Van Fleet Inquest Is Held at Funeral Parlor Here

Why Alan Crocker Van Fleet, 45, socially prominent Palo Alto lawyer, chose to kill himself near here Saturday must apparently remain unsolved.

His brother, William C. Van Fleet, declared at Tuesday's inquest the family could not ascribe any possible motive. He declared that there was nothing to indicate that Van Fleet was remorseful and thinking of suicide.

Asked by Coroner J. C. McGovern whether he thought the death a suicide, Van Fleet replied: "I do not suspect foul play."

Deputy Coroner John Layng, who claimed the body after it had been found in a creek bed by Peter Storti of the Woodside road, said he found no evidence of foul play at the death scene, and expressed his belief that Van Fleet had taken his own life.

He told of finding a mirror from the car adjusted on a tree near the body as if Van Fleet had used it to guide the placing of the pistol. The gun, a .38 automatic, was found under the left shoulder, Layng testified.

Death, he said, was caused by a gunshot wound in the head.

Storti was not called by McGovern, and Layng and Van Fleet were the only witnesses examined.

The jury brought in a verdict of death "due to a gunshot wound in the head, suicide."

The inquest was held in the Layng and Tinney chapel here.

"Zeke" Bonura, Dallas first sacker, celebrated news of his sale to the White Sox by hitting his 23rd home run of the season and stealing several bases for good measure.

Macon Scheduled to Be Here in October

Navy department officials in Washington announced today that the new dirigible Macon will come to Sunnyvale not later than the last week in October, the Associated Press reported.

The Macon will leave Lakehurst, N. J., October 20 and proceed directly to the west coast, the announcement said.

The date of arrival of the big gas bag at Sunnyvale and its route to the coast will depend largely upon weather conditions.

Naval officials also said no change in plans to base the big ship in California was contemplated.

Application for Water System Fund Is Filed

Redwood City's formal application for a $20,000 fund from the federal government under the emergency public works program was filed Tuesday in San Francisco by City Manager E. A. Rolison and City Engineer C. L. Dimmitt.

It is planned to use the money to extend and improve the water system in the Emerald Lake district, which was recently taken over by the city. The project is self-liquidating.

The plans, drawn to the last detail, and assembled in a comprehensive manner, were prepared by the two city officials, with the assistance of City Attorney Albert Mansfield. They bear the endorsement of the planning commission, the city council, and the Oak Knoll Improvement Club, through its representative, Gilbert Ferrell.

Adhesive postage stamps are not redeemable nor can they be exchanged at the post office for other stamps, according to postal regulations.
